WILL OUTGUESSES ONE COMMISSION NAMED BY HOOVER

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 21.—I always felt there was only one thing that could possibly defeat Mr. Hoover's capable management of our affairs, and that was when he ran out of practical men to put on commissions. And a sure enough, he is getting short handed.

Yesterday's commission didn't have a practical man on it. Every one was a college professor. It's to find out "what has brought the social changes in our lives here lately."

Knowing college professors, he gave them three years to agree on an answer. I could have told him before sundown what's changed our lives. Buying on credit, waiting for relief, Ford cars, too many Republicans, Notre Dams coaching methods, and two-thirds of America both old and young, thinking they possessed "it."

Yours, WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

This is the last Saturday before Christmas—DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING IN NEW CASTLE.

New Castle city council is arranging a little Christmas present to New Castle taxpayers along the line recently adopted by congress—a reduction in city taxes. The tax levy will be one mill less for 1930 than for 1929.

More and more the Christmas lighting of homes and out of doors trees is being noted as Christmas approaches. Hundreds of homes will share in the out of door lighting scheme for the holidays by the time Christmas eve arrives. Many streets will view with each other this year for first honors. Winter avenue has set of lead the procession for the past two years.

Tomorrow will mark a high spot in the calendar of the church year. In practically every church in New Castle or Lawrence county there will be special Christmas programs, either at the morning or evening services or at both.

Weather like today turns the thoughts of the youngsters to skating once again. Many are now hoping that Santa will drop a pair of skates or a sled in their stockings on Christmas day.

Several streets about the city are icy in spots as a result of the quick change in weather conditions. Water was running over these streets and it froze into thick ice on some of the thoroughfares.

Here is a good one—the answer of how to keep the floors in your home or store free from mud and slush. Sign on the door of a local store—"Please do not step over the mat."

Weather indications today are that there may be a lot of snow for Christmas in this city. It is a little cold this morning for a heavy snow. (Continued On Page Two)

Entire Senior High Building Will Be Utilized

Scores Of Teachers And Pupils Busy Preparing Exhibit

WILL PRESENT ALL SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Most Comprehensive And Extensive Exhibit Ever Seen At Convention

If the state convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association, which meets here next week, did nothing more than bring to the attention of the people of New Castle what is being done in their schools, it would be well worth while. For the first time, the school system has a complete exhibit of every phase of work done in every grade and every department, and this exhibit will occupy the entire Senior High School.

Without seeing the exhibit it is impossible to get an intelligent idea of it. Projects that have required weeks for completion, exhibits that show ingenuity and skill in the making, definite, visual proof of the present methods of teaching.

Teachers Busy Today
The Senior High School is a factory today, with every one of one hundred or more teachers and as many pupils a part of a giant construction gang. Rooms and hallways are converted into exhibition halls, and each one different from the rest. Geography exhibits with the various countries shown in plots and projects instead of contained between the leaves of some musty book. Art exhibits showing unusual skill in color harmonies and originality in design. Primary exhibits in which some of the old Mother Goose tales are worked out in figures.

Science, biology, shop work, reading and languages, health and dentistry, mechanics and library work, all of them represented and all of them splendidly worked out.

To Finish Work Monday
The exhibit is not nearly finished today. Much more work will be done on Monday, so that everything will be in readiness for the convention which opens Thursday. Thursday evening and Friday, the people of New Castle are invited to inspect the exhibits and to miss seeing them is to miss one of the most interesting sights imaginable.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools inspected what was done this morning and said that in his opinion the exhibits were without any doubt the finest and largest ever seen at a state convention.

Probe Boat Crash On Hudson River

Seven Hundred Passengers On Ferry Stage Panic As Car Float Rams Vessel

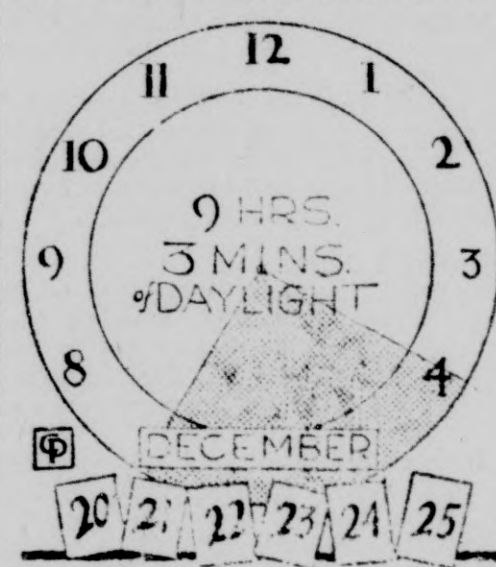

SEVERAL PASSENGERS PAINFULLY INJURED

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Investigation was begun today into the ramming of the New York Central ferryboat West Point with 700 passengers aboard, by a heavily-laden car float in the middle of the Hudson river last night.

Nearly tugboats, attracted by the whistles of distress, quickly came alongside and all passengers were safely removed from the damaged ship without any serious casualties. For a few minutes after the collision a panic among the passengers threatened to turn the accident into a disaster, as the calmer passengers reached for life preservers, the more nervous grabbed fire axes and smashed through window frames on the lower deck in order to make openings through which to jump to the decks or rescuing craft. A few passengers were painfully cut and many scratched by the jagged glass.

The West Point, brilliantly lighted was only a few minutes out from shore, when rammed by the car float and a large hole slashed in her port side about amidships. Twelve automobiles aboard the ferry were removed when she was towed into her slip.

Two Weeks Vacation Will Be Taken By Congressmen; Tarriff Still Is Worry

HOPE FOR SPEEDY ACTION NEXT MONTH

Many Important Bills Passed By Seventy-First Congress In Lengthy Session

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The seventy-first congress turned homeward today for a two weeks vacation with its long session well under way, but the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill still an unsolved problem for leaders of all factions.

With little progress made on the tariff bill since the regular session opened on December 2, senate leaders predicted action would be speeded after January 6. And that the bill will be finally written into law by March 15th.

Hope For Action
The Democratic-Insurgent coalition of the senate, still dominating tariff legislation despite breaks in their ranks recently, are hopeful they can complete work on the measure in February, and leave a few weeks before March 15 to reach an agreement in the house.

Many "old guard" Republicans adhered firmly to their predictions that differences between the senate and house can never be reconciled. Rep. Gardner of Texas, Democratic leader of the house, has launched a campaign to form a western Republican-Southern Democratic coalition in that body to retain the changes being

Special Inquiry Board Is Probing Crash Of Plane

Amidst Gloom That Pervades Bolling Field Rigid Probe Gets Under Way

VICTIMS' BODIES TAKEN TO HOMES

May Never Know Exactly What Caused Fatal Crash That Killed Congressmen And Four

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Amidst the gloom that pervaded the Army's air station at Bolling Field, the special board of inquiry investigating the crash of the giant tri-motored Fokker, instantly killing Rep. William K. Kaynor, of Mass., and four others, settled down today to an almost hopeless task of trying to determine the cause of the tragedy.

Meanwhile, funeral arrangements were being completed for the victims. The bodies of Rep. Kaynor and Stanley B. Lowe, his secretary, were at their Springfield, Mass., home.

Funeral Services Arranged.
Capt. Harry A. Dinger, veteran army pilot, will be buried at Arlington National cemetery at 10 a. m. Monday. The body of Arthur A. McGill, friend of Rep. Kaynor, and a last minute guest for the trip that ended fatally before it got well started, is expected to be taken home today by R. K. McGill, of Boston, a brother, who arrived here last night.

The fifth victim, Private Vladimir Kuzma, of Shelton, Conn., is at Bolling Field, pending receipt of word from his father, Theodore Kuzma, as to his disposition.

The board of inquiry into the accident is composed of Maj. Robert A. Hale, medical corps, flight surgeon of Bolling Field; Capt. Ernest Clark and Lieut. Ronald A. Hicks, air corps.

Many Difficulties.
The board is confronted with many difficulties in determining what caused the tragedy. All on board the ill-fated plane were killed instantly. The crash came from such a low altitude that the witnesses who watched the plane take off hardly had time to get a picture of what happened.

Rail Traffic Is Hampered By Snow And Severe Cold

Storms And Holiday Rush Combine To Cause Severe Traffic Tieup On Railroads

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Holiday mail and passengers combined with the severe cold wave which has swept the middle west and struck Pittsburgh last night today had brought about one of the worst railroad tieups here in years.

Pennsylvania trains inbound are being stopped at suburban stations and outbound trains are scheduled from the same stops while commuters scrambled for street cars, buses and taxis to reach the downtown districts.

At the Pennsylvania station it was said that schedules of trains from the west have been upset by the blizzard in addition to having to bear the heavy holiday trade. Many trains are increased by three or four sections, representatives said.

Cold weather has retarded the shifting of trains in the local yards, until the congestion there has reached the point where no more trains can be brought in for a short time at least, it was said.

The official low mark in temperature here last night is 11 degrees, registered at 10 p. m. Continued cold is forecast for the week end.

Deputy Sheriffs Are Acquitted Jersey Murderer Is Sent To Death For Killing Boy

Jury Acquits Officers On Charge Of Killing Six Textile Strikers

DEFENDANTS MADE SELF DEFENSE PLEA

(International News Service)
BURNSVILLE, N. C., Dec. 21.—Eight McDowell county deputy sheriffs charged with second degree murder in connection with the killing of six textile strikers at Marion, N. C., on October 2, today were acquitted by a jury of mountaineers in superior court here.

The not guilty verdict was returned after the jury had deliberated for 22 hours over the fate of the deputies. Their trial, moved to this mountain hamlet from Marion on agreement of opposing counsel, lasted for ten days. The case was delivered into the jury's hands at 11:20 a. m. yesterday.

The trial had been under way for more than a week. The defendants were: B. L. Robbins, Webb Fender, Robert Ward, William Twigg, Charlie Tate, Jim Owens, Dave Jarrett and Taylor Green. Conviction on a charge of second degree murder carries a penalty of from two to twenty years imprisonment in North Carolina.

The defendants claimed self-defense, the state, however, contended they fired into a group of pickets in front of the Marion Manufacturing company the morning of October 2, while the strikers were fleeing from tear gas bombs the officers had thrown in their midst. According to the state, the strikers were both "quiet" and unarmed.

Six strikers were killed and a number were injured in the melee, which culminated the long series of disturbances during the Marion textile strike, sponsored by the United Textile Workers of America, an organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Hoover's Fact Finding Board Is Under Fire

Congress Threatens Abolition Of Law Enforcement Commission For Lax Reports

CONTROVERSY IS QUITE HEATED

Both Wets And Drys In Congress Favor Immediate Report As To Investigations

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission was threatened with financial extinction today due to its failure to submit a report to congress on the trend of its inquiry into prohibition enforcement.

Aroused by the commission's "star chamber" sessions and its failure to report developments, dry leaders on Capitol Hill were ready to abolish it by withholding all appropriations for the coming year. This would automatically eliminate the commission, since the federal statutes forbid anybody serving the government without pay.

May Settle Row

The controversy may be settled during the Christmas recess of Congress by the commission changing its attitude and filing a report with its creator. Unless such a report is sent to Congress, it was quite evident dry leaders would terminate its activities.

Senator William J. Harris (D., of Georgia), an ardent dry, led the movement against the commission. He publicly threatened to tie up its funds if the commission further delayed a report to Congress. In this stand Harris had the support of numerous dries and all the wets—a clear majority of the Senate and House.

Such ardent prohibitionists as Senator Carter Glass (D., of Virginia), and William E. Borah (R., of Idaho), have approved Harris' position.

Ask Immediate Report
"I favor the President's commission making an immediate report to Congress," said Borah, "and I favor a statute directing all federal commissions in the future to make reports to Congress as well as to the President. I entirely support the position taken by Senator Harris."

Glass went further. He described the commission's policy of holding secret sessions and keeping its actions secret, even from Congress, as a distinct blow at the legislative body, which created the commission. He was highly incensed and agreed with Harris to tie up the commission's appropriations.

The wets likewise endorsed Harris' statement, bringing both wets and dries into accord in the senate at least for the first time in many days.

After all I guess that Christmas with its pleasures and its joys, wasn't meant so much for adults as it was for girls and boys. Wasn't meant for age and dignity, for folks with graying hair, nor for folks without illusions, as to worries and to care. Seems to me that it was meant for little bright eyed envious teens, little girls who bawl on Santa, and for eager little lads. Christmas means to older people just a time that they enjoy, making eager youngsters happy, say some touselled headed boy, who believes in tales of fairies, knows that Santa will be here, and those bells are reindeer coming that on frosty nights he hears. Yes I guess this thing called Christmas wasn't meant for you and me, quite as much as for the youngsters, weather's just twenty-three fall but with a little moderation in weather there is likely to be a heavy fall of snow. A white Christmas is the desire of most everybody Pa Newc would volunteer.

Valves of several trumpets, bass horns, and trombones of the Ben Franklin band froze at the East Side Christmas tree, Friday evening. When the boys would blow the instruments, a queer, choked noise was the only response. But the horns were thawed out in a nearby gas station and the music then came along fine. And this is a sign of pretty cold weather, Pa Newc would think.

New Castle is going to have the liveliest after Christmas season that has ever been experienced here. Some three or more thousand delegates to the State Educational Association convention will arrive in the city immediately after Santa Claus gets away. They will be here for sessions on Thursday and Friday.

Up at the senior high school building today there is great activity. Scores of workers are arranging the exhibits in the various rooms for the State Educational Association convention. New Castle residents should make a visit to the school on Tuesday and look over the exhibits. It will be an interesting revelation of work being done in the New Castle schools.

There was a range of but four degrees in the temperature during the last 24 hours, the official weather report from the pump station of the New Castle Water Co. shows. The maximum was 16 degrees and the minimum 12. The mercury is crawling

The TOWN DOCTOR

(The Doctor of Towns)

Says:

THINK—IT WON'T HURT YOU ANY!

HOMAS EDISON once said, "The American people will go to any extreme to avoid the necessity of thinking."

Notwithstanding the fact—think! This is the time of times to think. Next week a year passes into "what used to be." It's through; it's gone, and it will never return. Many, many things were accomplished in the last 12 months, but that's ancient history. There are a lot of other things you could have done—that's ancient history, too. It isn't what you did or didn't do in '29—it's what you are going to do in 1930 that counts now.

And what are you going to do—same as in 1929? If you do, you are going to go against every law of progress. If you don't change, you will be through—not all at once, to be sure, but you can't go forward standing still, and if you don't do better in 1930 you'll be where you were in '29, and that's standing still—or going backward.

This reads like a sermon. It isn't meant that way. It's just my peculiar way of leading up to this—

If, in '29, you sort of went back on New Castle; if you leaned back with any of your 100-worn-out alibis and let the other fellow do the work; if you sat in the car while the other boys changed the tire; if you let some fellow petty jealousy keep you out of the Chamber of Commerce or Lions Club; if you turned sour because everybody else couldn't see things as you did; if you acted up like a school kid, and wouldn't play at all, and tried to spoil the fun of others just because they wouldn't play your way and let you be teacher; if you pooh poohed every attempt on the part of others to do something to build New Castle; if you spent your time pussy-footing, scandal mongering and rabbit-punching; if you kept your hands in your pockets, leaning backward, while others were putting their shoulder to the wheel pushing forward—if you did these things, and knew you were doing them, you were a civic moocher and deserve no consideration from neighbor or stranger.

Maybe you didn't know you were doing such things—that's why I say think—it will do you good.

ing up a little today with snow flurries being noted. We may yet have a white Christmas.

Fewer frozen radiators have been noted on automobiles being driven about the city during the present cold spell. Motorists were evidently prepared for the sudden drop in temperature.

Ice is again forming in local streams as the temperature hovers down near the zero mark. It will take considerable cold weather to cause the Neshannock to freeze over in its course through the city because of the rapid flow of the water since the remainder of the Rosena dam has been removed.

Four more sleeps and old Santa Claus will be with us in person. There is great anxiety among the kiddies over his impending arrival.

The community Christmas tree had been erected on the diamond this morning and multi-colored lights were being strung about it. It will soon be ablaze, to help create and spread more of the yuletide spirit in the downtown area.

Speaking of the Pennsylvania railroad decorations, Pa Newc thinks they have a most attractive display. The Pennsylvanians have erected a tree in the small center grass plot at the depot and to the side of the station entrances are illuminated keystone symbols with holly trimmings around them.

The B. & O. has also erected a tree at the Seventh ward station.

Heavy snowfalls and temperatures near to zero were responsible for the lateness of trains coming to New Castle from the east this morning. Trains early today were running from two to three hours behind schedule due to delays, but by noon they were operating closer to their ordinary running time.

Several men were capably handling piles of parcel post today as it arrived at the Henry Hotel sub-station from the New Castle post office, to be sent to the trains being assured this morning. The post office acquired the extra space this year so that all outward bound mail could be handled with speed at one location. No mailing can be done there however.

The shopping crowds are out in force today. Downtown New Castle is alive with hordes of shoppers. Tonight will probably witness a record business.

Either early Christmas mailing failed to go over so big this year, or else there is an extra amount of mailing being done. Today, the lobby of the New Castle post office has been crowded all day long with local persons mailing Christmas packages, long lines being formed most of the day before the five or six places where packages are mailed.

Christmas greeting cards by the thousands are being mailed here today. Hundreds have visited the post office with quantities of the cards that have been added to the enormous volume of Christmas mail being handled at the post office.

Further work is being done on the detour near Cascade Park and Pa Newc is informed that it is now in good shape. New slag has been hauled and the detour has been leveled off. We know that Pa Newc can express the gratitude of several thousands and persons who travel the detour for the improvement.

KENNEDY PAROLED.
William T. Kennedy was paroled from the county jail by court this morning. He was sentenced June 29 for six months on a charge of embezzlement.

Senator Tyding (D), of Maryland, who has succeeded the former Senator Edge (R), of New Jersey, as the wet leader, declared he would support any step taken by Harris to force the commission's sessions into the open.

Jones Defends Board
"I am with Harris," said Tydings. "I hope Congress will force the commission into the open. And we should require the commission to report now and not next summer, after Congress has gone home."

The one voice raised in defense of the commission was that of Senator Wesley L. Jones (R), of Washington, author of the "five and ten" law. He protested against the Senate calling on President Hoover to order a report from the commission. He had nothing to say about its secret sessions, but it was learned he does not approve them. Jones, in protesting, acted more to protect the President, it was said, than to defend the commission.

When Congress returns in the new year it seemed entirely likely the commission's activities would be made the subject of frequent debate until wets and dries alike learn just what it has done in the last six months. The inquiry, into all law enforcement as well as prohibition conditions, has been conducted entirely in secret, with newspapermen and the public barred from all sessions of the commission. As was said in the Senate, this secrecy is a new thing to Washington, where all hearings are conducted in public.

made in the bill by the senate combination.

In his first open effort to bring about a coalition, Rep. Garner failed to gain assurance from Rep. Ramseyer (R) of Iowa, member of the house ways and means committee and a farm bloc power, that he would support the senate coalition's stand on rates.

Ramseyer is openly against the senate's flexible provisions.

Important Bills Passed
The first month of the present long session saw many important pieces of legislation passed by both houses. The house functioned with unusual speed under the driving power of administration leaders, while the senate has perhaps felt the sting of house criticism and equalled its record.

Among the important problems cleared up are: The three-year old Vane case which resulted in exclusion of Sen-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania; ratification of French debt settlement, passage of $14,000,000 veterans bureau hospital bill, $9,740,000 appropriation for new support court building, $160,000,000 tax reduction bill, legislation to continue federal radio commission and emergency appropriation for the Mediterranean Fruit Fly campaign.

A heavy grist of legislation faces

War department records show, officials said, that more than sixty percent of similar accidents are caused by the "human equation," some act of either commission or omission. Dinger was described by Davidson as being the most experienced pilot of tri-motored transports in the army, and because of this Dinger's fellow aviators are inclined to believe if the human equation entered into it, then he must have gotten dizzy, fainted or had some sudden ailment.

HENRY FORD'S VIEWS ON MATERIALISM

IN AN interview in the Daily Princetonian, Henry Ford is quoted as saying that he cannot see that the new generation is any worse than those that have preceded it, and he even goes so far as to say that the young folks of the present day have greater opportunities for happiness than did their elders.

He has no desire to put old heads on young shoulders, but he can see no reason for young heads not knowing, if only as a pertinent piece of information, "that happiness in life is usually found by the man who is looking for something else."

This is an other way of saying that the surest way of finding happiness is by trying to do something for somebody. Nor does Mr. Ford subscribe to the belief that we are living in a very materialistic world. He cannot see why economic security should injure any man. "I am not at all impressed," he is reported as saying, "by the intelligence of the opinion that this is a materialistic age simply because we have an abundance of necessary things." He will find many to agree with him on this point. Luxury by itself may have an enervating effect upon the race, but when a man has to work to get his luxuries he is not in much danger of degenerating.

TRAINING DIPLOMATS

In the renewed discussions in Washington about the selection of men for promotion in the foreign service and about jealousy between the diplomatic and consular branches, two important considerations have been overlooked. One is the fact that, as our relations with other countries embrace many questions of trade and business, it is increasingly important for our representatives abroad to have a knowledge of more than the mere diplomatic forms. The other is that the state department has shifted men not only from country to country but from continent to continent, with the result that very few have the chance of becoming thoroughly familiar with the political, commercial and social conditions in one country, and of knowing intimately all the details of American relations with it over a period of years.

The principle, now well established, of naming professional diplomats to be chiefs of missions is sound. At least, it has proved more satisfactory than giving these important posts to the politically preferred. What is left is to impress the younger men with the need of familiarizing themselves thoroughly with matters of international trade and to encourage them to become specialists on all phases of activities in the countries to which they are sent.

President Hoover does not overestimate when he says "I know of no expenditure of public money from which a greater economic and moral return can come to us than by assuring the most effective conduct of our foreign relations." With that he urged more liberal appropriations for the work of the state department.

DOLL MOTHERS PREFER BRUNETTES

Less than one doll in five in Santa Claus's pack this year will be a blonde, according to a reliable trade report. There is little question that supply is determined by demand. But why does the child prefer a brunette? Perhaps she is dark herself, and the feminine standard of beauty, of course, is often the individual's own type.

The theory that women dislike blondes on the ground of their alleged superior power over men fails to explain the doll situation. One woman may hate another as a rival, but Freud to the contrary notwithstanding, that complex is frequently absent from mother love which dominates the relation between the girl and her doll. A charmer is likely to try to bring up her daughter, perhaps unconsciously, to develop inherited traits. A woman less favored is likely to wish for her daughter the weapons of a flirt in order to rule in a domain where the mother never held sway. It is characteristic of a parent to want more for its offspring than it ever enjoyed itself.

TIMELY WARNING

Motorists are given some sound seasonal advice in recent bulletins issued by the National Safety Council, which includes cautions against carbon monoxide gas and other dangers. Among the admonitions given are these:

Beware of carbon monoxide gas by keeping garage open when you start your car. This gas is deadly, but you can neither see, smell nor taste it.

Have brakes tested frequently. When road is slippery don't apply brakes or step on the gas too suddenly. Take curves slowly. Watch out for car tracks. Be extremely cautious when passing schools, playgrounds and other places where children are running about.

In short, use head, hands and feet to prevent accidents.

CHANCES

The city industrial workers has one chance in eight of living to be 70 years old. The farmer has one chance in three. So reports of a committee of the United Hospital Fund, New York state.

There, in a nutshell, you have a graphic picture of what civilization is doing to us.

Health is close to the soil.

The time is not far off when great cities will in large part break up, factories moving to the open country and taking workers with them. Either that or man heads for extinction.

SCHOOLING

Most Americans get their schooling between the ages of 6 and 16, says Prof. Dallas L. Sharpe of Boston University.

That is true. But most of us do not begin to get our real education until we leave school. Experience remains the greatest teacher.

When a school graduate strikes out in the world for himself, one of the first things he has to do is unlearn much of what he had been taught. The delusion that takes most time to get out of the head is youth's inflated conception of the possibilities of success.

About the hardest thing to cure is injured feelings.

Salesmanship, A Lecture.
Faint And Low In Wall St.
He Might Kill Some One.
Wanted, More P. S. Prisoners.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

A big word in American business is "SALESMANSHIP." Salesmanship distributes goods, creates a demand for more. Advertising is good salesmanship. Convincing conversation that knows when to STOP is good salesmanship.

Recently Henry Ford described Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Company, in few words, as a "good salesman."

After luncheon with W. R. Hearst at the inauguration of the new Hearst newspaper building in Detroit, Mr. Ford took Mr. Hearst through the Ford factory and salesmanship was discussed.

"Swope, head of the General Electric Company is a great salesman," said Henry Ford. "That company has two wonderful men in Owen D. Young and Gerard Swope."

"Swope came here and in less than 15 minutes sold me a 140,000 horsepower turbine engine, convincing me that his company could build it for me better than I could build it myself."

To be a good salesman, the first thing is LISTEN.

The second thing is to TALK CONVINCINGLY.

The third and most important is to know when to STOP TALKING.

The pulse of speculation beats faint and low in Wall Street; only 2,284,250 shares sold Thursday. Much of that selling done to "take losses" and deduct them from income tax.

This selling for income tax deduction, causing a drop in government's expected receipts, will present a problem to Secretary Mellon with his cut of $100,000,000 in taxes.

However he is used to problems and to solving them.

Gone from Wall Street for the moment is the hope of regular "10,000,000 share days," and gone the hope of stock exchange seeds worth $1,000,000.

The street had one 16,000,000 share day, and sorrow. But what goes up comes down, and what goes down comes up. Brokers who keep their seats will see them worth $1,000,000.

Investors that buy stocks representing good United States properties will see prices come back and go higher.

Gambler will suffer as gamblers always do.

Carnera, the Italian giant, weighing 295 pounds, 6 feet 10 inches tall, is forbidden to box again, in England. They like the good natured Italian, but are afraid he might kill some man in the ring, and hurt the "noble sport."

What an advertisement that will be for the Italian prizefighting giant when he arrives in America.

Here, if you knock a man down on the sidewalk, with no gate receipts, that's a crime.

If you knock a man down and even kill him in the prize ring, with big gate receipts, and a payoff for the right politicians, that's "sport," and perfectly legal.

Mr. Mitchell, President Hoover's Democratic attorney general, wants $7,000,000 to build new prisons for the United States. He says the problem of prisons is the major one before the Department of Justice.

In Great Britain they are closing prisons, renting prison buildings for other purposes, because crime is diminishing.

It was hoped prohibition would produce such results here, only on a bigger scale. Thus far the hope is not realized.

Germany says Clarence Dillon of New York, refuses to lend $100,000,000, money needed for Germany's December obligations. Germany's finance minister, Helfferding, is expected to resign, and the whole cabinet with him.

Unpleasant for Germany, not bad news for American investors.

There are many opportunities for good investment in America now, and plenty of opportunities to spend 100,000,000 of American dollars here on work that would give employment.

We should like, of course, to oblige our German friends, but the United States comes first.

New York doesn't mean to lag behind in interesting modern crime. Two New Yorkers were picked up yesterday, riddled with bullets, having been "taken for a ride."

"Honor among thieves" was lacking in one case. A young Brooklynite, arrested with a partner while holding up a gasoline station, told detective that he and another man killed one of the dead "riders" after he had won their money at dice.

After the "ride" and killing the two young murderers, according to the confession, "continued robbing taxi drivers, milk men, stores and filling stations, until caught."

The preaching of Jesus—Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, and saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe in the gospel.—Mark 1:14, 15.

"I object," said a defense lawyer. "There is nothing in the evidence about the immorality on the union lot."

"What?" cried Mr. Carpenter. "No evidence of immorality. There is testimony here that they were kissing and hugging which is immorality, except between husband and wife."

An Italian gentleman at Salem, O. was charged with shooting his wife and she is in a serious condition. He claimed he was only shooting in the air to scare her. Could a jury of men and women be secured who would believe a fairy tale like that when it does not even come from a fairy? Omigod!

Part irregularity is to be an issue in some states. It seems to us it would be sort of embarrassing to a state to elect a United States Senator on the Republican ticket and then have him vote with the radicals in the Senate. That is about the only false colors don't get anyone anywhere.

A sarcastic writer asks us some pertinent questions about some local doings, which we are not in shape to answer and for which this newspaper is not responsible. The sophisticate is the opposite of the greenhorn.

He does not make blunders of etiquette. He knows and practices the customs of civilized people. He is at ease because he knows the right thing to do.

But customs differ in different lands, and no man can be completely sophisticated unless he has lived among every people and learned their ways.

To do in Rome as the Romans do is to be sophisticated in Rome, but to do the same things in Carthage is to seem an outlander and a greenhorn.

The American metropolitan proud of his sophistication might amuse Londoners by his ignorance of British ways, and if he knew the customs of England and the Continent he still might prove himself a greenhorn by failing to remove his shoes when granted an audience with the Mikado.

The yokel adventuring in a city for the first time comes to grief in a revolving door, narrowly misses being run down by a street car, refuses to surrender his hat to the check girl and sleeps in a glare of light because he doesn't know how to operate the wall switch.

But the city man who laughs at him goes adventuring in the country and picks a bouquet of poison ivy. He gets lost in the woods or fails to heed a warning rattle among the pine needles or offends the natives by refusing to eat chicken with his fingers.

No man can know it all. No man can feel at ease in every company. No man is a complete sophisticate until he can eat blubber with the Eskimo, handle spaghetti as adroitly as the Italian and chop sticks as gracefully as a Chinese, relish boiled milk offered in a smoke begrimed shell by an African savage, mount a camel, exchange small talk with kings and hoboes, and feel at ease in church or barroom.

Which is to say that the ordinary provincial, untutored, inexperienced man who cultivates a worldly-weary, bored air of cynical sophistication as soon as he learns to feel at ease in a dinner coat is a spectacle that may amuse the gods but one that gives sensible people a pain in the neck.

Many Suggestions Offered To Cure Prison Rebellions

Suggestions Cover Questions Of Discipline, Adequate Room And Separation Of Habitual Criminals From Less Hardened Characters

The mutiny at Auburn prison in New York, involving several deaths and coming as a climax to a series of such affairs in various parts of the country, brings forth expression of deep concern and many suggestions including the return to more severe discipline, better accommodations for criminals and segregation of hardened characters from other prisoners.

The NEW YORK SUN points out that in this mutiny, "apparently a score of convicts were active promoters of and participants in the outbreak," that "the other 1,580 inmates of the prison appear to have behaved themselves with as much self-restraint as could be expected of the onlookers at a riot. * * * Not all convicts plot to escape," continues the Sun, "though practically all would escape if the way were clear; the proportion of plotters may or may not be larger than it once was, but there was never a time when any penal institution did not shelter inmates who spent their time trying to devise means to get out. No matter how luxurious a prison may be made, there will never be one in which all the inmates will be happy and content to stay."

Emphasizing the "hopelessness of these attempts to escape," the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT reviews the present discussion as to "inadequacy and indecency in the accommodations * * * lack of employment" * * * longer sentences, and the failure to segregate "lifers" and long term prisoners where they may be better guarded. The series of outbreaks, it continues, "The Transcript" has directed attention to these things. Out of it may come a better public understanding of the whole question of the treatment of prisoners in a manner to preserve order within prison walls, while making punishment adequate from the standpoint of the protection of society."

"Three points stand out distinctly," in the opinion of the SCHENECTADY GAZETTE, first, "the state's position that there can be no compromise, no dealing with criminals, is the only tenable one. The slightest concession to men who have broken the law, and who for a moment hold the upper hand, dangerously weakens the whole structure of law and order," second, "poor food, overcrowding, needless exactions" which "breed the discontent that causes outbreaks" and third, that the state "should consider the need of segregating hardened criminals from the younger and less serious offenders."

The incident of one state trooper inspires the enthusiasm of the GRAND RAPIDS PRESS, which says: "The convicts, seeing all doors opened ahead of them, in accordance with the warden's orders, step out into the prison hall to face a solitary state trooper, who, looking into the barrels of those murderers' guns, calmly tosses a tear bomb into their midst and leads an attack which fires the warden and breaks the mutiny. Presumably that trooper will receive the reward he deserves. Looking death coolly in the face—without any fanfare of bands."

NOT TOLD BEFORE

The members of the United States Senate amused themselves during the closing days of the Special Session of Congress in many grotesque gestures. McKeesport Men Seek New Trial

Nine Convicted McKeesport
Former Police Officials
Will Fight Verdict

FOUR ACQUITTED BY JURY'S VERDICT

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—"The McKeesport rum" conspiracy case is not a closed incident, it became known today in spite of the fact that yesterday the jury which heard the case here in federal court returned its verdict, acquitting four, convicting nine and disagreeing in the case of eight of the 21 defendants accused by the government of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws.

The convicted men will appeal for a new trial, denying that they accepted payment charged by the government as ranging from $10 to $300 a week to protect liquor violators or of offering the bribe. They include former Police Chief John F. Brennan of McKeesport, former Police Chief Charles F. Bengel of Versailles, Justice of the Peace Charles E. Reinhard of Versailles, Nathan Friedman, Harry Uskovitz, Leo P. Vannobush, suspended motorcycle policeman; Albert Rasp, former motorcycle policeman; Martin Firestone, Salem, O., and Ben Frank Friedman, Uskovitz, Firestone and Frank are alleged bootleggers, said to have been associated with Charles Friedman, brother of Nathan and alleged head of the liquor ring. Charles Friedman was the government's star witness during the trial.

The defendants on whom the jury were unable to agree may have to stand trial again, United States Attorney Louis E. Graham indicated. The jury was out for more than 23 hours during which they returned to the court room twice for further instructions as they struggled with the complicated and contradictory evidence presented to them.

THE MOST IMPORTANT—

Men do not always get their names printed in the largest type.
Movements do not always have the most imposing committee of sponsors.
Books seldom enjoy distinction in their own generation.
Issues are always spiritual, not economic.
Questions are usually the ones we postpone if possible.
Decisions of life seem to be made when we have the least judgment.
Days are not always the ones on which we get the most applause.

While the word 'Stop' is getting to be used a good deal by advertisers, it still continues to mean danger at rail crossings.

—that cozy chair for FATHER

DESPITE his insistence upon the fact that he was still the youngster he used to be.
Father was showing signs of his old age and his need for comfort. It was suggested that the family give him a cozy fireside chair for Christmas. Everybody was enthusiastic about the project. What a thrill it would be to see the Major puffing away at his pipe and reading in his own, friendly chair.
When the holidays arrived, however, the family was short of funds. Love for Father wouldn't buy the chair. He received, instead, a few very impractical knickknacks. The more he thanked his children, the more they regretted not having taken advantage of the easy means of following their generous im-

Consolidation Of Railroad Systems Of Nation Planned

Interstate Commerce Commission Announcement Today Is Eagerly Awaited

Limited Number Of Large Systems Will Be Affected; Two Big Roads Untouched

(International News Service.) NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Financial circles in New York today were awaiting announcement of plans of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the consolidation of the railroad systems of the nation into a limited number of systems. It was believed the announcement may be made this afternoon.

The series of mergers comes as a climax to the reorganization of steam transportation that was started during the World War period. Claude R. Porter is credited with revision of the basis of the merger plans.

Dow, Jones, and Company, financial news service, in a copyrighted story, yesterday state that the I. C. C. program calls for nineteen major systems in the nation, five of which are to be in the East, utilizing the four present trunk lines, with the Wabash as the nucleus for the fifth.

Big Roads Untouched
The New York Central and the Pennsylvania lines will be untouched, it is believed. Among those lines added to the Wabash will be Lehigh Valley and the Pittsburgh and West Virginia. The Baltimore and Ohio and the Chesapeake and Ohio and allied Van Sweringen interests, will also be increased by additional lines.

The New Haven and the Boston and Maine in New England will be considered as separate units, and will be expanded. The three main systems in the south will probably be the Southern, the Atlantic Coast line, and the Illinois Central.

Outstanding in expected western changes will be the exclusion of the Burlington from the Northern unit, and its use as an individual system.

Rev. W. L. Engram Gives Defense

Case Of St. Paul's Baptist Church Injunction Is Not Concluded

After hearing testimony upon both sides of the question, Judge James A. Chambers on Friday afternoon continued the preliminary injunction brought against Rev. W. L. Engram by Limmie Edwards of the St. Paul's Baptist church restraining him from occupying the pulpit. The preliminary injunction was held on until the final hearing which will be next week.

The defense of Rev. Engram contends that the action taken against him by Edwards and some of the congregation was not legal, that the majority of the members want him to stay, and that the action was taken by two of the officers, who had been "silenced" because of certain things done. The silencing of a member reduces him to an inactive stage it appeared from the testimony, and hence such members could not legally oust the minister.

In his defense Rev. Engram testified, and called Rev. George B. Landis, pastor of the First Baptist church, Bertha Marlborough and John Alexander. Judge Chambers will hold the final hearing some time next week, if the case is not settled in the meantime by a compromise.

Shortest Day

(International News Service.) NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—They laughed when he rose to speak. But with his first words rapt attention was his.

"Do you know," he asked, "that tomorrow sees the winter solstice upon us?"

"Do you know that today, due primarily to the connections of the north pole with the sun, is the shortest day in the year? That there will be approximately only nine hours of sunlight?" They gasped.

Then, realizing that today was one of the precious few left in which to purchase father's tie, Johnny's scooter and Aunt Emma's shawl, they made a mad dash for the door.

"Don't forget," he called, "the sun came up sharply at 7:32 and will go down no less sharply at 4:35."

Freight Train Wrecks Truck; Driver Not Hurt

Extra Engine Is Necessary To Disentangle Truck And Train Near East Washington Station

Remarkably, Charles Bender, driver of a L. A. Pearsall company truck, escaped injury when the truck was struck forcibly by a south bound Pennsylvania freight train, at the railroad crossing behind the Home Trust company building, about 75 or 100 feet from East Washington street. The accident occurred at 3:30, Friday afternoon.

Hitting the truck head-on, the train engine forced the wrecked car to be wedged in between the engine and a telephone pole. The machine was wedged so tightly, that another train engine was required to disentangle the engine which figured in the wreck, from the wedged automobile.

It is seldom that an occupant of a machine so badly wrecked, is not injured. According to Mr. Bender, he did not see the warning lights flashing on and off at the crossing. He was driving west, when the accident happened.

Bessemer High School Notes

The past week for both teachers and students has been full of activity. Preparations for the Christmas program, completion of required work and various sporting activities have all helped to create the busy atmosphere.

Christmas vacation in Bessemer high school began Friday, Dec. 20, and will extend until Thursday, Jan. 2. School will then be in session for the short interval of two days before the week-end and will resume in earnest again on Monday, Jan. 6.

Mr. Winters conducted the Christmas assembly on Friday, Dec. 20, with an appropriate program. Rev. Engle of the Presbyterian church delivered the Christmas address, which the Girl Scout troop, under the supervision of Miss Fannie Keys, presented a short play.

The basketball game with New Wilmington, which was to have been played last Friday, was postponed until some future date. An epidemic of scarlet fever delayed the anticipated tiff.

A rivalry between the various classes has been started in basketball. The noon period is taken up by contests between these teams. The game on Monday proved a victory for the junior boys over their opponents, the freshmen. The eighth graders

Somerset County Town Is Damaged By Flames Today

Berlin, Pa., Has Fire Today That Causes Estimated Damage Of $160,000

(International News Service.) JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 21.—Fire today wiped out an entire business block in Berlin, Somerset county, forcing guests to flee from a hotel in the path of the flames and did property damage estimated at $160,000 before it was brought under control.

Starting in an A. & P. grocery store, the flames spread to the Hotel Berlin, forcing P. J. McGrath, proprietor, and the hotel guests, clad in their night clothing, to take refuge in the open in spite of zero weather.

Before firemen from six surrounding communities could get the fire under control it had destroyed the A. & P. store, the hotel, a restaurant, a barbershop and a hardware store.

Buildings across the street were ignited by the intense heat but were saved with slight damage when the firemen directed their attention to confining the flames to the doomed block.

Fountain pens now have every need, improved except a contrivance to bark when they are placed in the wrong pocket.

Russia's idea is that people who won't invite her to tea have no right to say anything if her boys steal war terminals.

What the enforcement squad seems to need most is a dry law that won't get scared and drop its teeth at sight of a pile of money.

Motorist Killed, Companion Hurt, Train Hits Auto

George Leber, 40, Dickson City, Pa., Instantly Killed In Crossing Crash

(International News Service) SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 21.—George Leber, 40, of Dickson City, was killed instantly today and Frank Brotek, 35, his companion, saved his life by jumping when the automobile was struck and demolished by a Delaware and Hudson passenger train at a grade crossing in Dickson City, two miles from here.

Brotek suffered lacerations and abrasions of both arms but escaped serious injuries when he leaped from the machine as the speeding train bore down on the automobile.

Leber, who was driving, elected to stay at the wheel and tried to accelerate his speed so as to beat the train to the crossing. He perished in the wreckage.

The train struck the machine with a terrific impact, hurling it to one side and scattering the roadbed with wreckage.

ENGLISH WOMEN

CHOOSE IDEALS

LONDON, Dec. 21.—A survey taken of eight of England's most fair and distinguished women determined the types of manhood they admired the most. The following is the opinion of some of them:

Lady Segrave, wife of racer, prefers the tall, broad-shouldered, mainly looking sort—handsome in every way.

Lady Diana Bridgman, daughter of Countess of Bradford prefers the tall and dark, very masculine male and, above all she says he must be a good talker.

Lady Carey Evans, daughter of Lloyd George, likes the tall man, smiling countenance, which denotes a happy disposition.

Mrs. Gerard D'Erlanger, formerly Edythe Baker, famous actress, says: "Give me the man with an athletic appearance."

Looks like the tall men win.

Coroner investigated the case of a fellow who tickled a mule's hind leg. Verdict, no doubt, was "tickled to death."—The Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

BIG-CHESTED MAN

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Henry Collwell was strolling down the avenue and people remarked that "there is a well built young man." Solwell's chest was thrown out in a large arc.

But police were suspicious. They stopped the gentleman and investigated. They found two large hot water bottles filled with moonshine under his coat, they say.

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern — so durable that they simply won't wear out. The age of a Lincoln is no one's concern—least of all its owner's. On the boulevards a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well-kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

PETER AIDS AUNT DEATH'S WATCH

As Peter watched from behind his leafy screen, he saw another eyespotted wing appear from the other direction. Tap, tap, tap, came six sharp little raps.

"Just as I guessed," whispered Biffer, chuckling. Then he called out: "Good morning, Uncle Death's Watch. You nearly scared us to pieces. I only just discovered who you were."

"Ooh!" screamed a shrill voice, and a second angry voice shrieked: "How dare you scare my wife like that! See what you have done. She has fainted away. Dear, dear! I can't leave her to get water, yet that is what she needs. If she came to and found me gone she would topple over once more. Dear, dear! What shall I do?"

"I'll get water for you," said the boy, as he tried to wriggle his way through the blackberry bush's thorny branches. "It will take me a minute to get out of here, but I noticed a brook a little way back, and I'll bring a drink in my hat in no time."

"I am sure I am much obliged to you, sir," said Death's Watch, gratefully, and he watched Peter push his way out and hurry off to the brook.

"Hello, Biffer. Glad to see you; but what on earth are you doing in there, and who is your friend? He seems to be a very kind hearted person."

Over his shoulder Uncle Death's Watch spoke to his nephew. "He is," agreed Biffer, "and, say, uncle, I am sorry I scared Aunt Death's Watch. I didn't mean to, but you frightened us first. We saw your wings and thought the spots were eyes. And by the way, who was rapping, you or aunt, there?"

Uncle Death's watch didn't answer his question, for just then Peter ran up with his cap full of water. The anxious husband dipped in his claws and dashed the cool drops upon his wife's face. Coughing and sneezing the poor lady came to. Peter was a perfect gentleman or he would have laughed at the odd little lady's look of surprise when she opened her eyes and saw where she was.

Nine McKeesport Men Found Guilty Of Taking Bribes

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21.—Nine defendants in the McKeesport liquor conspiracy including two former chiefs of police and a justice of the peace were found guilty by a jury in federal court late Friday.

The jury disagreed as to the guilt or innocence of eight of the 21 defendants and four others were found not guilty. The verdict which is said to have set a precedent in federal cases in that there was a disagreement in a conspiracy case, was returned after the jury had twice asked the court for additional instructions. The jury deliberated for 22 hours.

John F. Brennan, former chief of police of McKeesport, Charles L. Bergstedt, former head of the Versailles police and Justice of the Peace Charles Reinhard of Versailles township were among those found guilty. Reinhard who is 69 years old, was recommended to the mercy of the court.

PROPOSE NINETEEN RAILWAY SYSTEMS IN UNITED STATES

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The so-called Porter plan for consolidating the railroads of the country into a limited number of systems was issued today by the Interstate Commerce commission.

It provides, in effect, for 19 systems in continental United States and two Canadian owned systems.

The 19 United States systems are as follows:

- No. 1—Boston and Maine.
- No. 2—New Haven.
- No. 3—New York Central.
- No. 4—Pennsylvania.
- No. 5—Baltimore and Ohio.
- No. 6—Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickle Plate.
- No. 7—Wabash-Seaboard.
- No. 8—Atlantic Coast Line.
- No. 9—Southern.
- No. 10—Illinois Central.
- No. 11—Chicago and North West.

No. 12—Great Northern-Northern Pacific.

- No. 13—Milwaukee.
- No. 14—Burlington.
- No. 15—Union Pacific.
- No. 16—Southern Pacific.
- No. 17—Santa Fe.
- No. 18—Missouri Pacific.
- No. 19—Rock Island-Frisco.

The Canadian systems:

- No. 20—Canadian National.
- No. 21—Canadian Pacific.

The report said that the plan did not at present contain a complete allocation of terminal properties to individual trunk lines. Generally speaking, the terminal properties, wherever located, automatically fall into the aggregation of terminal properties of which they are a part.

"We think that consolidations should be accompanied by the unification of all terminal lines in the respective terminals," the report said.

ABE MARTIN On The Land O' The Free

THE AUTO AN' PROHIBITION TOGETHER HAVE JEST ABOUT ANNIHILATED ALL RESPECT FOR THE LAW

There's a big overproduction o' laws in this country an' no market abroad an' yit our country is supposed to be "the land o' the free an' the home o' the brave." Ther kin be no doubt about the United States bein' the home o' the brave. We've got to be brave to own a home, an' we've got to be still braver to enter it after nightfall. We've got to be brave to drive along a country road, or display a few paper dollars. We've got to be brave to run for mayor, raise a family, to get married even. But to call our country the land o' the free is all bologna. Our country is fairly reekin' with laws an' ordinances an' honeycombed with inspectors, policemen, detectives, ferrets, spies, snitches, sleuths an' constables, constables disguised in corduroy clothes with their badges hidden under their lapels. Not only are duty sworn in officers o' the law constantly on our heels, but ther's neighbors to contend with. Ever'body's under suspicion. Ther's strong an' determined men an' women sworn to banish gamblin' forever from the land. If they met today they'd play bridge for money. Ther's great, unwieldy cost o' law enforcement is out o' all proportion to our law abidin' population. It costs too much considerin' the few people it keeps in line. I used to wonder at the bravery o' ole overland stage coach drivers. Wouldn't it be great if we didn't have nothin' but the James boys an' Indians to be afraid o'? Next to tornado insurance or perhaps corn meal, human life is the cheapest commodity we have. So many o' us seem to feel that it's allus the other feller who'll get maimed or robbed or killed that we're safe an' go right ahead bein' run runners, bank cashiers, stunt fliers an' pedestrians. Ther's no freedom in a country where even bein' a palbearer is a hazardous occupation, where we can't even play the commonest avocation without bein' questioned, searched, or robbed or murdered. We don't even dare to promise "We'll be back in half an hour." But it's a great, brave an' glorious nation that strikes out ever' mornin' feiglitful o' yesterday's fines, sentences, crimes an' casualties, a wonderful nation that sets forth each new day whistlin' an' all unmindful o' the chances it's takin'. We laugh an' shout an' think we're havin' a grand time when we're liable to be bumped off or arrested any minute.

France Gives Viewpoints On London Parley

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 21.—Reaffirming France's contention that the forthcoming five-power naval disarmament conference in London can be nothing more than a preliminary parley subject to further consideration by the League of Nations, the French foreign office today sent identical notes to the nations attending the parley setting forth in detail this country's views on disarmament.

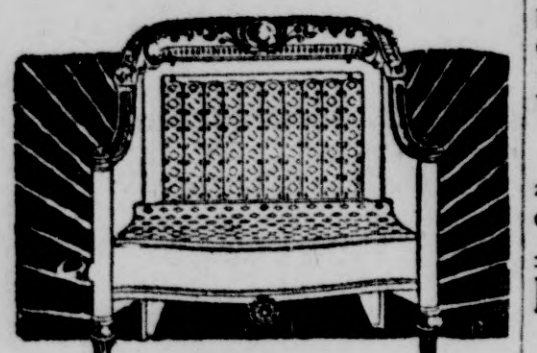

The communication, dispatched simultaneously to Great Britain, the United States, Japan and Italy, declares emphatically that France is willing to consider the London parley only as a part of a general preliminary disarmament move, with any definite and final decisions left up to the League of Nations.

On the Highland line, operators, Huston, Garwig and Shippe have had 30 years service; on the Croton line,

Bo Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Will Morrissey, now vibrant, raconteur and genial gentleman, plus, is staging a new revue, "Hoboken Hobbes," the night after Christmas in Hoboken. He has signed up Frank Tinney, Bill Montgomery and Bert Fitzgibbon in the cast—three of the best entertainers Mazda Lane ever produced, all of whom, in the last few years, have been taking it on the chin from Fate and refusing to curl up, quit or otherwise admit they were licked.

Tinney, former star of the Follies and Music Box revues, has been battling ill health while Fitzgibbon and Montgomery have been trying to soft-pedal a certain exhilaration of temperament.

A few years back no one manager would have had money enough to combine these three geniuses on the same bill; and Will Morrissey is doing not only a shrewd thing, but a particularly gracious one in reaching out and pulling the triumvirate back again into the limelight.

HOW WOULD YOU VOTE? Gertie Lawrence, the "play actress," clad in the long clinging mode of the hour, and Rita Weiman, playwright, in skirts that failed to cover her dimpled knees, locked horns the other day in a debate touchin' on an' appertainin' to the feasibility of women dragging their skirts.

"Suggestion is more effective than revelation," quoth Gertie.

"We musn't become mere meal tickets for foreign style mongers," countered Rita.

There was more stuff like that and then the ladies in the audience took a vote. It was a tie.

EVER-CHANGING NEW YORK

A certain restless characterizes New York and results in strange shifts and changes in various town centers. Commerce is responsible. Fifth avenue, once the swank residential lane, now is almost entirely given over to high class shops. Park avenue, where for some time past the Bradstreet Breed have been building their nests and rearing their young, is slowly but surely succumbing to the demands of "trade." Mazda Lane has in the last 20 years three times revamped its boundaries.

Eighth avenue furnishes a good example of the sharp shifts in character that overtake important thoroughfares. From 42nd street, ten blocks north, Eighth avenue for years has been a corollary of Broadway. Stage folk, in from the road, lived there in furnished flats and ate there in hash houses of modest mien. The food was good, the prices cheap and always there existed the added attraction of the camaraderie of their own kind.

Then someone needed some money and the brilliant idea was conceived of building a subway under Eighth avenue. Immediately the place changed. In trooped the real estate speculators with their eager eyes of gain. Down came the queer little side-wheel flat houses and funny restaurants, out moved the stage folk and up went block after block of ginger bread hotels, angular loft buildings and other architectural rubbish.

And that's the end of an old and interesting thoroughfare.

BRAVOS FOR JANE

In her younger days Jane Cowl was married to a dramatic critic. Immediately thereafter three Broadway managers made her attractive offers which Jane rightly surmised were prompted more with an eye to her husband's prestige than to her ability. She unceremoniously rejected the offers. Meanwhile her husband, being a man with a particularly fine-pointed sense of honor, let it be known that he would decline to review in his paper any play in which his wife appeared. Thus, whatever success on the stage Jane Cowl has attained may be said to have resulted from her own undoubted accomplishments.

Barber Shop Is Robbery Scene

Barber shop of Samuel Davis, 13 North Mercer street, was broken into some time last night and tools and other articles valued at approximately $100 taken.

Entrance was effected by breaking the window of the toilet at the place.

Among the articles taken were three pairs of electric clippers, 12 razors, some combs and a five-pound box of candy belonging to one of the employees of the place.

Discovery of the fact that the place had been robbed was made this morning by W. B. French, who is employed there.

NEVER TOO OLD!

A certain old actor, now past 70 and long ago retired, is living on Staten Island with his daughter and her family. He is none too plentiful in the little household and the old gentleman is supposed to get by on an allowance of 50 cents a week.

The other day he disappeared and a general alarm was broadcast. Nothing was heard of him for ten days, when he reappeared suddenly as he had slipped away. He was freshly shaved, wore a new suit and sported a bankroll. His meager allowance, he explained, had irked him and he had fared forth on his own again, to small motion picture houses and vaudeville theaters in nearby towns, in each case talking himself into the bill.

Milady's Heels Cause Accidents

Sometime Break Off When Fair Sex Boards Or Leaves Local Cars

High heels contribute to the list of accidents which occur to patrons of local street cars it became known today when C. C. Coulthard, local superintendent of transportation of the P-O Electric was asked: "What is the principal cause of accident to riders of street cars?"

"There are two causes, high heels and buns," said Coulthard.

He explained that high heels sometimes break off while persons are boarding and leaving cars.

Two accidents of this nature occurred recently.

Coulthard also said that some women carry so many and large bundles that the view is obscured boarding and leaving cars and this also contributes to accidents.

Three Santa Clauses Confuse Little Boy

Little Billy Barber, three years old, wanted to see Santa Claus, the writer was told.

So mother and aunt went with the little boy down to a local store. And sure enough, there was Santa with all the fixings!

"Have you been a very good boy all this year?" asked Santa. Immediately upon hearing this question, much of the little boy's enthusiasm dampened. Much in awe, but a very truthful young fellow, Billy replied: "Mother says I am not some times."

"Well," said Santa, "I am afraid I can't come to visit you then."

At this Billy was completely crushed, and, forgetting for a minute that he was a man, began to cry. Santa Claus then said that if he

Trooper's Widow Is Denied Money By Compensation

Widow Of Late Trooper Victor Busche Loses Appeal In Court

HUSBAND FOUND FATALY WOUNDED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 21.—A member of the state police, killed while making a "social call" on a woman friend, is not furthering his employer's business and his widow cannot collect compensation insurance, the compensation board held in a formal opinion made public today.

The opinion was given in the case of Mrs. Sophia Busche of Cambridge Springs, who had appealed from the disallowance of the district referee.

The board's opinion did not attempt to fix responsibility for the death of Victor Busche, the policeman, or to decide whether he had been murdered or committed suicide. His body was found outside an apartment occupied by Blanche M. Hafner of Pottsville.

His service revolver and cap were found on a bed in the apartment.

Counsel for Mrs. Busche had advanced the argument that state policemen are liable to call even when making visits on friends, whether it is day or night, and that the entire commonwealth should be considered as the employer's premises.

On that point the opinion said: "Why he visited the woman's apartment, where the shooting occurred, is not a matter of record, but his fellow trooper testified that Busche and Bertha Hafner had been running together and that the witness had been present when the decedent had paid the woman social visits, and stated that these visits were made frequently."

Mrs. Busche has filed objection to the board's opinion in the Dauphin county court and asked for a court trial.

There is no extra charge for this service.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

WAR AND SENSE?

Edward Hurley, one of President Wilson's assistants during the war, talks sense and tells the whole story when he says the industrial leaders of the world can permanently abolish war by a mere gentlemen's agreement.

In a letter to the present of the International Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Hurley urges industrial chiefs to control the world's supply of iron, coal, rubber, manganese, nickel, aluminum, petroleum, mercury, and other things "in such a manner that these materials will not be available in sufficient quantity to enable any nation to wage war effectively."

This is a big program, but comparatively simple. Financial leaders of America alone, our biggest bankers, can prevent war by a gentlemen's agreement. There is not a nation in Europe that could finance a war for two months—probably for two weeks—without calling on Uncle Sam for the money.

ROCKEFELLER THOUGHTFUL

John D. Rockefeller Jr. is smart. Perhaps he is not as smart as his father, but he is able and thoughtful. It may be he is even smarter than his father. Rockefeller, Jr. calls together reporters of New York newspapers and introduces to them his son John D. 3rd. He commends his son to the friendly consideration of newspapers. He tells reporters it is a tradition in the Rockefeller family to co-operate with newspapers in giving the people news which is of public concern.

A man who is thoughtful about the world in which he lives knows that it is the part of intelligence to co-operate with the press and to help in all ways to carry out the responsible duty of bringing information to the public.

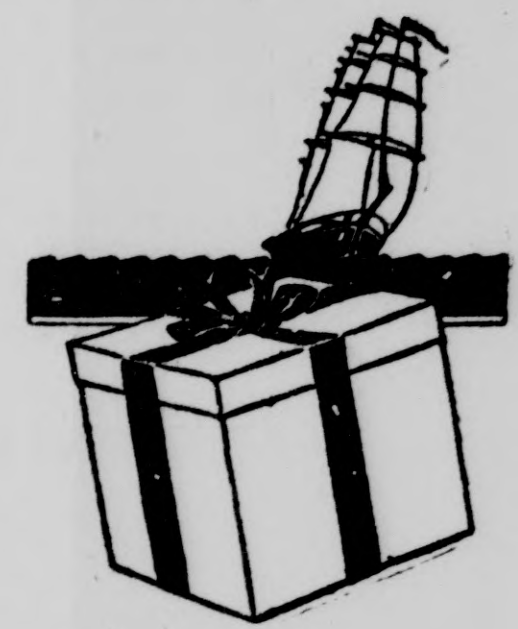

UP FROM SAVAGERY

Barnard college, a school for women in New York, will have no more "hazing" of new students. It is worth noting that the discontinuance comes by consent of both first and second year classes. Hazing is pronounced "silly, undignified, and unworthy." This is more than a trifling bit of news. It is one of those instances coming to public notice now and then, which indicate that we are little by little casting off the ways of savagery and barbarism and coming to be more civilized.

It will be thousands of years before the human race is grown up, but there are encouraging signs.

There were a number of jail and workhouse sentences but none to the penitentiary.

Sentences passed were as follows: Frank A. Rodgers, operating motor vehicle while intoxicated. Second offense, $200 fine and costs and eight months to county jail.

S. A. Levine, assault and battery and obstructing a legal process. Paroled for 2 years upon the payment of $75 and costs.

Steve Sager, possessing liquor, paroled upon the payment of $50 and costs.

James Logan, possessing liquor, $50 and costs and paroled for two years.

Harold Eperthener, possessing liquor $100 fine and costs and 6 months to jail.

John Gaffney, possessing liquor, $200 fine and costs and six months to Allegheny county workhouse.

Pasquale Audio, charged with embezzling money from the House of Savoy, was called for sentence, but sentence was deferred owing to the absence of one of his attorneys.

George Macom, Everett Rick and Russell Stewart, taking automobile without consent of the owners, were paroled for three years upon the payment of costs. They are the boys whom police arrested after a dozen or more cars had been taken, the boys driving them and then leaving them on the streets.

In paroling the boys Judge Hildebrand expressed surprise that they should have been caught in this kind of business. He said that he knew the families of the boys and that he knew that they were better raised.

They were also told that they could be sent up for long terms in prison, but that on account of their youth he was going to give them a chance. If any of them get into trouble during the next three years they will be brought in and sentenced on the charges upon which they were arrested.

Wall Street Makes Ready For Christmas

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Wall Street's 1929 Christmas spirit is undimmed. It is just as cheery as if the late unpleasantness had never happened, a tour of the financial district revealed today. It's going to be a "big Christmas" in "The Street of Gold."

Yuletide chatter is in the air. Brokers and bankers are "forgetting" the recent debate that sent stock prices crashing down. They are looking to 1930 with optimism and "let's go" is the slogan. Employees are talking of the bonuses they are to receive. Christmas holly adorn the windows of banks and brokerage houses; presents are being distributed with a generous hand and the scarlet-garbed

Salvation Army lassies tinkling bells brand donation pots are finding the intake surprisingly heavy.

Will Give Bonuses.

The New York Stock Exchange will give Christmas bonuses of 10 per cent of their 1929 salaries to its employees. This is substantially the same as paid last year. Substantial bonuses are being announced right and left—by the big banks, the brokerage houses and individual operators.

Wall Street will hold a Christmas celebration on Monday when a large tree will be lighted and members of the financial community will unite in caroling. The Rev. Caleb R. Stetson, rector of the famous old Trinity church, located in the heart of the district, will pronounce the benediction.

Directors Of C. Of C. Given Rivers Report

New Industry Projected For City Is Also Discussed At Meeting Friday

URGENT CITIZENS TO AID IN CONVENTION

Report of the annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors conference held in Washington, D. C., on December 10 and 11, was submitted to the members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their meeting at The Castleton Friday noon, by Alfred W. Chilton, who was one of the delegates from the local district. Mr. Chilton, as secretary, represented the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers Improvement association and the New Castle Chamber of Commerce.

It was decided that efforts to secure slackwater navigation of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango rivers, an economic benefit to New Castle, would be one of the major activities of the Chamber of commerce in the future.

A report was also received on a prospective industry for New Castle, although nothing definite can be presented to the public as yet.

Discussion was also held on the convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational association, which will be held here on December 26 and 27. The cooperation of the citizens of New Castle with the school authorities and others who have worked so hard in bringing this convention to New Castle and making arrangements and plans for it, is urged by the chamber.

Directors in attendance at yesterday's meeting were:

President W. F. Moody, Treasurer T. W. Dickey, James M. Smith, W. W. Duff, Fred L. Rentz, R. J. Tully, W. J. Offutt, L. G. Genkinger, T. H. Hartman, A. C. Hoyt, James K. Love, Hon. George T. Weingartner and Alfred W. Chilton.

Former French President Dies

Emile Loubet, Seventh President Of French Republic Dies, Is 91 Years Old

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 21.—France today mourned the death of Emile Loubet, who, as seventh president of the republic, held the reins of government from 1899 to 1906.

M. Loubet died last night on his estate at Montlaur. He was 91 years old.

Probably his most important administrative act from the historical viewpoint was the signing of the entente cordiale with Great Britain in 1904. From this blossomed forth the allies when the World War broke out in 1914, although at the time of its signing little importance was attached to it.

Pennsy Joins In Decoration Plan

Christmas Tree And Illuminated Features To Shine During Yuletide

In accordance with the holiday lighting plan of the Woman's club, an attractive Christmas tree and illuminated decorations have been installed by the Pennsylvania railroad at its west side depot.

Co-operating with the civic organization, the company has erected a tree in the grass plot area in the center of the depot drive and will illuminate its many lights at night. Keystone symbols bordered with Christmas lights and trimmed with holly have been placed at both entrances to the station.

The Pennsy's decorations will prove most effective as a cheery greeting to the delegates to P. S. E. A. delegates who arrive at the station next week.

Gardner Church Will Have Program

The Gardner Sunday school will present their Christmas program of songs, recitations and a playlet Sunday evening at 7:30.

Moving Sales Room Is Seen

The latest addition to the shoe salesman's accoutrement is the Enna Jettick Aerocar built by the Enna Jettick Shoe Company of Auburn, New York, for its salesmen. It is a deluxe sample room, luxuriously furnished and constructed along the lines of airplane body, and mounted by a bird's beak coupling to a Willys-Knight which furnishes the motive power.

The Aerocar paid a visit to New Castle Friday, when the local Enna Jettick Shoe Shop purchased their stock of new spring footwear.

Billy Coumbe, 18, Aiding Pilot To Get Plane In Air
Fails To Get Signal

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 21.—Billy Coumbe, 18 year old Moorestown, N. J. farm hand, may live to be a hundred years old, but he was doubtful today if he ever would experience as great a thrill as he did yesterday from lending a willing hand to an aviator in trouble.

Coumbe was one of a half dozen of his fellow farmers who rushed to the aid of Donald W. Darby, a pilot from Central Airport, Camden, when Darby experienced trouble in taking off from an improvised landing field near Moorestown. The pilot found he could not take off without aid and asked the men to hold his plane so that he could race his motor up to flying speed.

Fails to Let Go
At a given signal all let go except Coumbe who had failed to grasp the import of the signal. In an instant the pilot was in the air with the farm boy clinging to the tail of the four passenger monoplane. Unaware of his unwilling passenger, Darby headed for the central airport ten miles away. Though his hands were numb from the cold and his clothing was nearly ripped from his body by the backwash of the propeller, the frightened youth held on until the plane neared the ground to land when he was swept from his precarious position. Coumbe landed with a thump, rolling over and over but escaped injury except for a few scratches.

Darby was unaware of what had happened until field attendants reached the youth and questioned him then the pilot recalled asking the young farmer to aid in his take off.

MORAVIA STOP

MISSIONARY SOCIETY
The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Harmony Baptist church, held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Hogue on Thursday, December 19th. Despite the bad weather which prevailed a good attendance was noted. The affair was really a Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged in a manner to cause much amusement and a bountiful dinner was served at noon. A little sewing and a lot of fun was the order of the day.

MORAVIA P. T. A. ENTERTAINMENT

On Thursday evening, December 19 the Moravia grade schools under the auspices of the local P. T. A. put on a most successful Christmas entertainment. Each of the eight grades supplied part of the performers, and the only difficulty was finding room to accommodate the crowd which was so large the room would not contain the people. The children did very good work. The program follows:

Scripture reading—Dorothy Newton.
Prayer.
Song—"The Christmas Wish."

Recitation—Jean Hogue.
Song—"Christmas Time is Here."

Second Grade.
Recitation—"Johnnie's Christmas"—Ralph Perdue.

Play—"Christmas in Other Lands." Grades One, Two and Three.
Song—"Up on the Housetop." Two girls.

Recitation—Lucille Brown.
Song—"Jolly Old Saint Nicholas."

Second grade.
Recitation—"The Night Before Christmas." Dorothy Newton.

Play—"Santa's Helpers."
Song—"Santa's Coming."

Play—"Farmer Brown's Christmas." Grades seven and eight.
Solo—"Under the Stars." Julia Houk.

Song—"Merry Christmas." School Paper—Inez Houk and Marie White.
Song—"We Salute the Old Glory." 8th grade girls.

TREE AT SCHOOL.
Prof. Enter Brown provided quite an elaborate tree for the Christmas party at the seventh and eighth grade building Friday afternoon. Gifts were exchanged and a chocolate treat was given by the teacher.

AT ELLWOOD CITY
There was a general exodus of children from Moravia to the Shelby Tube Treat at Ellwood City Friday morning. Every child who could find an auto to cling to or could wheedle car fare out of a sympathetic friend was on his way to claim the goodies. This is one of the events to which the children look forward.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—A mild storm wave is expected to cross continent during week centering on December 23, increasing in force as it moves eastward. Following this storm center, temperatures over the country will take a sharp drop but will not stay at a low extreme very long, as the cold wave will be broken by conjunction of Sun, Earth and Saturn, which occurs December 25. During storm wave centering on 23, moderate precipitation, mostly snow, will be expected to be general over the continent; least precipitation during last ten days of month will be expected in western Great Central valleys and east side of Rockies. A storm wave of moderate force is expected to cross continent during week centering on 30; this storm period is expected to be extended into January by joining moderate storm wave centering on January 2 which will be a cold storm center. Storm force and precipitation will be expected to increase with and following storm wave centering on December 30; greatest increase in south Atlantic and east Gulf states. Cotton belt precipitation during month following December 30 is expected to graduate from below normal in west end of belt to above normal in east end of belt. Pacific coast water shortage has been pretty well relieved in Washington and Oregon and to some extent in B. C. I will expect this increase in Pacific slope precipitation to work northward, giving further relief to B. C. in the near future; not the great amount they need, but in combination with rather heavy snows in northern Rockies will be a material help to subsoil moisture and moisture and streams during spring cultivation.

Summary of expected January cropweather features will appear in next weekly bulletin. Moon phases of the near future occur as follows, given to nearest hour of Greenwich Civil time; to change Greenwich Civil time to your own local standard time, count one hour earlier for each fifteen degrees of longitude you are located west from Greenwich: New Moon December 30 at 24 hours; (that would be midnight of 24 at Greenwich); First Quarter January 8 at 3 hours; Full Moon 14 at 22 hours; Last Quarter 21 at 16 hours; New Moon 29 at 19 hours; First Quarter February 6 at 1 hour.

Cropweather of 1930 season will be of greater interest to North Americans than any season of recent years. In bulletin dated August 4, 1928 I stated that within three years conditions would be reversed; that North America would produce below normal and Europe above normal crops of bread grains; that North America might have to pay Europe to buy her surplus production. Those conditions have changed but have not as yet been reversed; production of bread grains will be almost the reversal of production in North America and Europe during 1928 referred to above. The Canadian Pool and the U. S. Farm Board will have some troublesome calculations to make during 1930 season. Excepting when very poor crops are raised by importing countries, Farm Relief must come from higher prices paid for that part of the crop consumed at home.

What Local Women Think Of Long And Short Skirts

Some say they are ugly. Others say they are lovely, charming. The subject in question is, of course, long dresses. Will they invade the business world? Have they come to stay? Will they be accepted or will they be disregarded?

It is, indeed, a question and a question which no one woman can answer to suit another.

The writer decided to ask the opinion of several New Castle women on this subject. Perhaps some light could be shed on the question from a local point of view.

But the answers determine the fact that many women will not forego the chic effect of short dresses without a struggle and considerable controversy.

Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett, a member of the school board, thinks that extremely long dresses are impractical, but dresses of a length halfway between the knee and ankle are attractive. Mrs. Douthett remarked that an irregular hem line was, in her opinion, very charming. The girls at the football banquet, she said, were dressed ideally, long sleeved gowns with hats to match.

Mrs. Roy Long, president of the Wm. J. Long, when asked for her opinion, said she believes skirts will not continue to be long for evening wear and that they would never be worn in the business world.

"Long dresses are tiresome and nuisances. Dresses to the ankles are unsanitary, collecting dust. I sincerely hope they never come back," so stated Mrs. Charles M. Grace, emphatically.

Mrs. H. C. Weaver, when asked what she thought about it all, said she thinks a modest length of skirt should be worn and for older women, the dresses should be more pronounced in length than those worn by young women in their teens.

Mrs. W. A. Womer of Highland avenue, thinks long skirts that call for leisurely, stately motion are very good for dinners, teas and evening. But for daytime wear, they are impractical.

"Long skirts with uneven hem-lines are flattering and feminine. I especially like skirts that are long in the back. However, America rushes about so and finds short skirts so convenient, that skirts will no doubt remain reasonably short for business wear," in the opinion of Mrs. W. C. Kissinger.

Mrs. Bella T. Taylor of Leisure avenue, said the subject of long dresses is an important question and one which requires some thought. But that just off-hand she would say that the energetic and practical American woman will never let herself be bound by long skirts. The business woman must clear her pathway of all petty annoyances.

Miss Margaret Crill of Neshannock boulevard, firmly believes that long dresses are too much bother, that she doesn't like to see them hanging below coats and if the dress must be long, she hopes coats will be long also.

Mrs. William Todd, of Pulaski, hates long dresses—that was all she would say.

Miss Olive Rodgers of S. Ray street, thinks the new style is here to stay and they will be worn in business offices.

Miss Elizabeth Spencer, of E. Long avenue, thinks the new style is alright for evening wear but long straight dresses look kind of "groovy" in an office.

Minnie Warnock Speer hopes they aren't here to stay, and Miss Elsie Gold thinks they are lovely.

Miss Harriet Biven also likes them. And so there is the long and short of it. No agreement can be reached, it seems. Perhaps we had better leave it to Paris after all.

Mrs. Marie Biddle was a New Castle shopper Thursday.

Fine Program Is Given Friday Eve At East Side Tree

Cold Weather Does Not Mar Christmas Program Beneath Beautifully Lighted Tree

Extremely cold weather did not in any way cool the ardor of the Christmas program at the corner of Butler avenue and East Washington street, Friday evening.

The East Side demonstrated its splendid community spirit in a most interesting fashion. Music and several talks were heard and gift bags were distributed to the children by Santa Claus, under the large, brightly lighted tree on the corner, erected by the people of that vicinity.

Rev. Samuel Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, delivered the invocation. This was followed by a selection by the Ben Franklin high school band.

Senator George T. Weingartner, the main speaker of the evening was then introduced by the chairman in charge Miss Rose McGurk.

Mr. Weingartner, who has been present at every program since they began, five years ago lauded the practice of erecting a tree at this prominent corner. He ended the talk by saying that the spot will always be kept for the continued erection of a tree in the years to come.

Another selection was played by the band. An idea of the extreme coldness of the evening can be gotten from the fact that the valves of many of the wind instruments were frozen.

Santa Claus appeared on the scene and gave some Christmas gifts to the children of Margaret Henry Home, who had gathered at the tree to sing Christmas carols. Word was whispered that Santa sometimes poses as Earl Dart.

The program was completed by a few words by Miss Rose McGurk, chairman of the committee of arrangements. Miss McGurk expressed the thanks of the people of that district, to all who had a part in the program, to Mr. Kleckner who donated the tree and to the Messrs. Forrest, Sittler, Keislo, Page, Young and Grove, for going after the tree and trimming it.

It was the East Side which originated the plan of erecting a tree for the community. This part 4 or 5 years ago. The trees and programs grow in size and interest each year.

Carol Festival To Be Held In First Presbyterian Church

The special musical program of the First Presbyterian church will be given on Sunday afternoon, December the twenty-ninth at three-thirty o'clock.

A very fine service is planned and will consist of the Christmas carols of many nations. The program will be given by the Youngtown Festival choir which is composed of leading church singers of Youngtown and includes the quartette of the First church.

For the past three years this carol festival has been given in Youngstown at the Stambaugh auditorium under the direction of Thomas H. Webber, Jr., who is now organist and director of music at the First Presbyterian church. This year the annual program will be given in Youngstown on Christmas day and the same program will be given here the following Sunday afternoon. Much work has been done by the singers who have been giving of their time and efforts to make a beautiful Christmas service. There are about twenty carols, some very ancient and traditional on down to the beautiful compositions of Mackinnon. The choir has earned a reputation for its artistry and this year finds the singers doing very fine work. The singers are Martha Baily Walton, Lillian Butcher Stambaugh, Julia Gough sopranos, Alice McMichael, Madeleine Rugh contraltos, Louis Hehman, Josiah Guttridge, George E. McDonald, Jr., tenors, L. R. Boals, C. S. Hatton, Arthur Hulbert basses and Thomas H. Webber, Jr., organist and director.

NEW CASTLE TRIMS WILKINSBURG 28-16

Red And Black Team Leads Throughout Game

Hannon, Alexander, And Wario Are High Scorers For New Castle

Wilkinsburg Fails To Score Any Field Goals During First Half

By CHARLES LANDOLF
WILKINSBURG, Pa., Dec. 21. — Displaying a defense hard to penetrate, along with good offensive playing, New Castle High School basketball team won their second game of the year when they defeated the fast Wilkinsburg High quintet 28-16, here last night. New Castle took a commanding lead during the first half of the game and was never in danger of being overcome.

Local Defense Good
During the first half of the tilt, New Castle demonstrated some real defensive playing rarely seen. They not only held the losers scoreless from the field, but permitted them but one shot from the floor—that being from the center of the floor by Troglione. Coach Bridenbaugh has developed a defense this year which is going to prove a menace to many teams.

New Castle started piling up counts after the first few minutes of play when Arthur Alexander, pivot man under the basket, Hannon made good a foul. Hannon annexed three points when he made another foul, and a basket when on a dribble down the side of floor, Alexander made his second goal of the game on a snappy double pass from one of his team mates. This ended the scoring as the first quarter whistle blew with New Castle leading 8-0.

Half Ends 15-2
Edwards scored Wilkinsburg's first point on a foul. McAuley made the count 9-1 when he tallied on a foul. Wario made good two fouls. Troglione scored the second point of the game for the losers on a foul. Nickie Uram dribbled from the center of the game, as the first half ended with the Red and Black cohorts leading 15-2.

Two baskets by Francis Wario, and two fouls by Hannon were the only scores for the locals in the third quarter which ended 21-6. In the fourth quarter the Wilkinsburg team came to life and scored 10 points to 7 for the winners. In this chapter Troglione made two good shots from the center of the floor. The game ended as Winter failed on a foul. Winter, McKissick, Thomas, Rowe, and McIntosh saw action during the third and fourth quarters. Final score New Castle 28 Wilkinsburg 16.

For New Castle the playing of the entire team was spectacular, while Troglione and McCullough were the best for the losers.

Benny Bass Kayoes Morgan, Wins Title

Benny Bass Takes Junior Lightweight Crown By Knocking Out Clever Champion

Commissioner Farley Holds Up Money Of Principals Until Probe Is Undertaken

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—A Russian immigrant boy whose real name probably can't be pronounced with a concertina is the 130 pound champion of the world today. They call him Benny Bass, just to distinguish him from the Sweeneys or something, but he is all fighter, this grave looking young man who first saw the light of day in the land of the Romanoffs, and he seemed to prove it last night in knocking out Tod Morgan rigid with a right to the jaw in the second round.

They paid off with the decision on this punch but not with the fighters money. This was ordered withheld by Chairman James A. Farley of the local commission, who announced himself as being dissatisfied with the fact that the challenger was said to be as good as 5 to 1 in the betting before the fight. Farley declared that he meant to investigate an investigation of these circumstances, which were so thoroughly sustained by the sudden ending of the fight.

Morgan Goes Down
As to that, Morgan was down twice before the round was 51 seconds old but got up only once. He was hit on the chin with right crosses each time and neither of them was exactly refined.

As a matter of fact, they looked like rather discourteous punches on the jaw. Morgan appeared to try to get up the second time, lifting himself partly off the floor as the count progressed, but pitching back on his face just before ten was reached.

The refusal to pay off with the purses is almost unprecedented in this state, where heretofore this action has been taken only as a precautionary measure when a foul in commitment was called off from the ring.

The fact that Morgan was down twice in 3 minutes and 51 seconds of fighting is no novelty. Heretofore, the pitcher that went to the well too often had only one rival and that was the pitcher that didn't go to the side door often enough. Last night, it would seem that they had been pointed by the champion who went to the floor too often.

Morgan had held his title longer than any champion now in the lists. Crowded in 1925, he made his sixteenth defense of the championship last night and in nearly all of these his troubles were far from few.

He, in fact, appeared to be forever climbing up from the resin and it seemed to be only a question of time until some bright young man would hit him and keep him there.

On the fact of things, the young man in question was this quiet, deceptively harmless looking Philadelphia, who, under different circumstances, might have made a very reliable man for the cloak and suit business. But the commission refused to accept surface indications.

Purse Held Up
It couldn't deny that these were interesting, however. The crowd was no bigger than 8,000 and there was less than $30,000 in the till when the principals entered the ring but the evening was worth a million dollars in excitement, starting with Morgan's rush in the opening minute of play and finishing with Chairman Farley's intercepted pass at the box office.

For at least a full minute, Morgan left handed Bass all over the place and then began whipping rights to the body. Suddenly he shifted the attack and drove Benjamin into the ropes with a right to the chin. The latter managed to unsnap himself but his legs were teetering and he looked to be a mark for the finishing punch. Morgan left it go but it landed by a foot. Bass collapsed into his chair at the bell.

The second round saw an abrupt reversal of the events that preceded it. Morgan came out set for the expected "kill" run into a hard right cross to the jaw and finished on his haunch in the middle of the ring. True to his record, he got up when the count reached nine—then, blooey it was all over.

Morgan was flat on his back for a count of five, then groped his way around to his hands and knees. At eight, he was laboriously lifting himself. At nine, he had pitched forward on his face again. At ten, out. Thus, the passing of a man who had been a fine champion. It may or may not be worthy of mention, in the fact of chairman Farley's evident suspicion, that Tod Morgan had done much for boxing, as for Bass, he, too, seems to have given of his best, even to the matters of fighting thirteen out of fifteen championship rounds with Tony Canzonetti two years ago with a broken collarbone.

Three Games At "Y" Tonight In Two Circuits

Three games are on tap at the Y. M. C. A. floor tonight.

In the New Castle Church League, the Epworth M. E. team tackles the Wesley M. E. quintet, in the first game of the program, starting at 7:30 o'clock. The second Church League game finds the Central Christians and Mahoning M. E. teams opposing each other.

The City League will offer the Toddy's Five against the New Castle Booster team. The game should be a good one, as there is a lot of rivalry between these two teams. Both teams are composed of the cream of the city's basketball stars.

Carrigan Resigns As Red Sox Leader

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Who will be the new manager for the Boston Red Sox?

That was the burning question of the hour today with the announcement that Bill Carrigan, manager of the American league team for the past three years, will retire to private life. In the snowbound fastness of his home in Lewiston, Me., Bill Carrigan conferred with President Owen yesterday. Results of the meeting and Carrigan's decision were made public today.

RITTICISMS

By WILLIAM RITT
Sport Editor of Central Press
They say Paavo Nurmi is getting too old to run any more. So he has taken up marathons.

Nurmi was born a commuter. He could out-gallop any train.

They called him the Flying Finn. But that gave airplanes a break. They weren't in it with Nurmi.

When Paavo had full steam up he looked like a radio message in a hurry.

Nurmi would tune in on the winning tape before the other boys were half way off their marks.

The only reason he didn't always win by a mile was because the race distance wasn't that long.

The only guy Nurmi was ever afraid of was Old Pop Time, who has been going strong ever since your ancestors hung by their toes.

It's just recently that folks got to see what Nurmi looked like. Up to then he resembled a pair of heels.

Who And What In 1929 --- February

By JACK SORDS

Sports Review For 1929 --- February

By NORMAN E. BROWN

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is second of a series of articles in which Norman E. Brown discusses the sport events of the year—month by month.

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
Central Press Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—February may be well referred to as the Month of the Big Wind in reviewing the sport happenings of 1929.

One of the biggest fiascos ever wished on the public was perpetrated that month.

And oddly enough it overshadowed four or five events that really meant something as sporting achievements.

The "heavyweight" championship bout between Jack Sharkey and Bill Stribling planned by Promoter Rex Rickard before his untimely death, was staged at Miami Beach Fla., Feb. 27. Headed by Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight king and other close associates of Rickard his organization carried on the plans for the battle—as a tribute to the world's most famous promoter. As it turned out they couldn't have paid him a more fitting tribute by calling it off.

Rickard would have hidden his face in shame had he seen the "bean porridge hot, bean porridge cold" act put on by the two maulers.

FEBRUARY 1—The month opened with boxing in the limelight. Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, tossed himself into a position to hog by knocking out Johnny Risko, rated as one of the toughest men in the heavyweight class. Schmeling showed hitting power that presaged greater things.

FEBRUARY 9—Track had its inning when Ray Conger, Iowa runner defeated Paavo Nurmi the great Finn in a mile race at the Millrose games in New York city winning by the remarkable gap of 19 yards. His time was 5:17 2-5 seconds. "While the mark was several seconds short of the mark of 4:12 the indoor record held jointly by Nurmi and Joe Ray, Conger's feat was a startling one.

FEBRUARY 12—Tennis held the spotlight momentarily when Johnny Van Ryn, young Orange N. J. star, defeated the veteran Bill Tilden in three straight sets in the finals of an indoor tourney in New York 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. Van Ryn had eliminated Francis T. Hunter, Tilden's veteran running mate in the semi-finals. Tilden and Hunter had ranked one-two in the national ranking for 1928. Van Ryn also defeated Tilden and Hunter in the doubles paired with J. Gilbert Hall, fellow townsman.

FEBRUARY 13—Jake Schaefer regained the 182 balkeine billiard championship by defeating Welker Cochran one of the former champions in a New York tourney in the final match succeeding Eduard Horemans, Belgian star as champion.

FEBRUARY 16—Percy Williams, sprint sensation of the 1928 Olympic games set a new world's record for 60 meters by slipping off that distance in 6 4-5 seconds in a New York meet, slashing 1-5 of a second off the mark set by Bob McAllister in 1927.

Williams electrified the world by his sensational running in winning the 100 and 200-meter events in the Olympic games.

FEBRUARY 18—Just two nights after his record-breaking run Percy Williams suffered his first defeat indoors or outdoors since his Olympic victories when in the New York A. C. games he lost the 60-yard event to Jack Elder, Notre Dame sprint star.

Williams and the man destined to defeat the Army football later in the year by a brilliant run.

Weems Baskin, New York Athletic club set a new world's record of 2-5 seconds for the 60-yard high hurdle event in the same meet.

FEBRUARY 21—Johnny Stribling announced that he would knock out Jack Sharkey when they met in the light of who happened that took rank as one of the season's best jobs.

FEBRUARY 27—Sharkey received Referee Magnolia's decision over Stribling in ten rounds at Miami Beach, Fla.

Sharkey To Fight At Miami Beach In February Is Report

Either Tuffy Griffiths Or Vittorio Campollo Will Oppose Boston Slugger

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Dec. 21.—An opponent for Jack Sharkey at Miami, Fla., will be named sometime in January, according to the late Tex Rickard. Carey and Sharkey conferred last night at the Garden here where they met while witnessing the fights at the Garden.

Carey said that the fight at Miami would probably take place late in February, and that the hub heavy-weight's opponent might be either Tuffy Griffiths or Vittorio Campollo, the giant Argentinian.

Four Fast Games In Church League Played On Friday

Church Teams Show Good Basketball At Y. M. C. A. On Friday Evening

Four good games were played in the New Castle Church basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. floor on Friday night.

The Central Presbyterians were topped by the Highland U. P. team, 19 to 12, in a good encounter. The score at half time favored the Highland team 5 to 4.

The First Baptists upset the fast going Third U. P. team 23 to 17 in a good game. The score at the end of the half was deadlocked at 8-8. Brenner, T. Wallace, and A. Uram starred for the Baptists. Mansfield was the best for the Third U. P. quintet.

The St. John's Lutheran team hung an 8 to 3 defeat on the First M. E. passers, in a slow and not much scoring game. The score at the half stood 4 to 3 in favor of the St. John's team. The Methodists did not tally a point in the final half of the game.

The Central Christians upset the Epworth M. E. team 26 to 12 in the first game of the evening. The score at the half favored the South Side boys 11 to 4. Earl Jauman, Watson, and Vago were the big guns. Shaffer was the best for the Epworth team.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Prices Irregular At Stock Market Opening

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Under the lead of the railroad stocks, which responded with higher prices to the publication of the Interstate Commerce commission's revised merger plan, the stock market made an effort to dig itself out of the slump which has held the industrial and utility leaders in its grip for the last few days. Prices were irregular at the opening today, but buying demand for the principal stocks flowed in, effectively blocking the drop in values.

Bulls were encouraged by the confident statements of officials of Montgomery Ward and other well known corporations, denying financial difficulties of any kind and forecasting the continuance of good business after the holidays, instead of needing new financing, the head of Montgomery Ward said.

A short interest of 300,000 shares exists in this stock according to Wall Street gossip and firework could be started at any time the bulls decided to run them in—provided of course that financial development in the affairs of the company were favorable.

General Motors recovered practically all of Friday's losses and short rallies were scored by Studebaker, Chrysler and Ford.

Prices were generally on the upgrade at the start of the second hour. U. S. Steel at 104 was up 6 points from yesterday's low. American and Foreign Power, after dipping further, to 79-1-4 rallied briskly to 84-1-2.

American Waterworks rallied 3 points and Standard Gas 4-1-2.

American Can sold up nearly 3 points at 112-1-2. Montgomery Ward at 47-1-2 was up 5 points from the low of the move and small recoveries were scored by other stocks in the mercantile group.

Some interest in the railroad share was aroused at the outset by the publication of Commissioner Porter's plan for railroad consolidation. Delaware and Hudson dropped off to the lowest price on the move at 165-1-2, down about 13 points for the week.

This road, which is regarded as the nucleus of L. P. Loree's fifth trunk line into New York City, was allotted by Porter to the Boston and Maine, while Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, sought by Loree to round out his trunk line, was given to Baltimore and Ohio.

Fox Film rose 4 points to 25-3-4 about 7 points from Friday's low price. A short interest of 300,000 shares exists in this stock according to Wall Street gossip and firework could be started at any time the bulls decided to run them in—provided of course that financial development in the affairs of the company were favorable.

AT ST. VITUS CHURCH

Three masses will be celebrated at the St. Vitus church, corner of Maitland and South Jefferson street, on Sunday morning. The first will be celebrated at 7:30, the second at 9 and the third at 10:30. Rev. DeMita will celebrate and deliver the sermon at Correct this sentence: "I remember that she is an intelligent human of seventeen," said the parents, "and never treat her as though she were a half-wit of five."

Make a Merry Christmas
Last the Whole Year Through

The spirit of Christmas is most charmingly expressed by the giving of remembrances that are useful as well as beautiful—and will be enjoyed every day of the year.

If this remembrance is for a woman nothing you choose could be more appropriate than a Universal Electric Percolating Urn Set, Waffle Iron, Toaster or any similar electric ware.

Each Universal Electric Appliance is a household necessity which brightens the home with its handsome appearance, and ministers daily to the comfort of its owner and her family—each is an ideal gift.

Make no mistake—give her a Universal, none better can be purchased—she knows this from her own experience!

ROAMING

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things
Around New Castle

Among other good qualities, Dayton Barge, an operator on the South Side street car line, has that of optimism. Every cloud has a silver lining to him, and every lining is sewed with gold stitches. When it rains he can see the sun, and when it's cold he keeps warm thinking of some of the days last July.

"It don't be long till the robins are singing," he mused this morning as he wiped an icicle off the control handle. Some of the passengers wondered if they would ever get thawed out, but Barge wasn't cold.

"I see where somebody is wondering when the robins will start back," said he. "There is a spot around Edenburg where you can see robins right now, and probably some red birds, blue birds and chickadees. There is a lot of laurel and pine out there and a lot of the Edenburg robins save the expense of a southern trip by staying out there."

The next time old Uncle Davy Needler is in the office I'll ask him how long this has been going on. Uncle Davy is considered to be the dean of Edenburg and all the country lying contiguous thereto, and perhaps he may have some explanation of the fact.

The vanguard of the Christmas decorations for homes is blazing the way for the big parade of light. Here and there, like illuminated raisins in a green pudding, red and blue lights flash out, winking cheerfully at a passerby and suggesting that here is the Christmas spirit.

Just because the mailman has been generous to this desk in the past few days there have been veiled insinuations about the office concerning people who mention what they want for Christmas. The green-eyed god of jealousy has been stalking the office for days, for the present time the score is two up and two to play.

The only difficulty is this, that while the number of cards in and out bound just about equal each other, the lists are not the same. You know how it is.

It does seem that a fellow would have to get more than just salary or wages for standing on the street corner collecting money for relief for the poor. On these days when a camel hair overcoat (not that I have one) seems like a spring top coat against the frosts of the blizzards, you can find men and women on various corners collecting nickels and dimes for charity work and somehow as I pass I can't help but remember that line of Kipling's, "you're a better man than I am Gunga Din."

Monday night is the night. Friendship ceases, and blood will run ankle deep when the final fracas between The News editorial and the Lehigh office bowling teams is run off. The Lehigh men have spent a good part of their week's salary practicing this week, and have a tense look upon their joint and several faces.

It promises to be more than a contest, it promises to be an epic, a marking for all time of the goofiest bowling ever seen this side of the Allegheny mountains.

One of the outside men for this column reports a fine set of ear muffs on the streets yesterday. One of those old fashioned pulch sets done in a rich blue, with an elastic connecting the two muffs and going around the back of the head like a curtain wire.

There were two sets, the other belonging to a Scotchman who hasn't worn them since the accident. It seems someone asked him to have a drink while he had his ear muffs on and because of the muffs he didn't hear him.

HAS MEASLES.

Sam Marino, 6, 12 East Division street, has measles, according to a report listed at the city bureau of health today.

Highland Church
Presents Program

Christmas Program, Pageant And Treat For Smaller Pupils
Is Given

The Christmas program of the Sunday school of Highland United Presbyterian church was presented in the Sunday school room of the church last evening.

The program was opened with some little beginners giving welcome recitations. Even though some of them could hardly talk plainly they were thoroughly enjoyed and loudly applauded, their baby voices and shyness making them thoroughly lovable.

After some singing by the junior department the curtains were drawn across the stage and when opened again showed the office of "Mr. Scrooge on Main Street" a playlet presented by the young people of the church. Mr. McFate in the part of Mr. Scrooge, a miserly, cantankerous old man with no Christmas spirit, carried his part off well, as did the rest of the cast. The carol singers presented a number of songs in a pleasing manner.

Santa Claus made his appearance at the end of the playlet and in a jovial, rollicking manner sang "I'm an Old Fashioned Man" which made a hit with the audience. He then presented the toys with candy and popcorn. Santa was portrayed by William Jones.

Mary McCormic On Way To Europe, Not To See Her Prince

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Mary McCormic, opera singer, was on the high seas today bound, she declared on her departure aboard the liner Olympic, for the Paris opera and not Prince Serge Mdivani.

It was Miss McCormic who, while Pola Negri was suing the prince for divorce two months ago, announced she was to become his next wife.
